YOUTH FOR CHRIST

SPONSORSHIP

Education is the key to the future wherever you are in the world. The only trouble is that quality education is not always available.

In Rwanda, public education is crippled by a severe lack of resources. Because of this, kids from the poorest backgrounds often receive a poor education and don't get the chance to escape from the poverty that surrounds them.

Kigali Christian School (KCS), a private school operated by Rwanda Youth for Christ, aims to provide excellent education to train leaders in all fields to move Rwanda forward — not only helping the children and their families, but the country as a whole. While KCS seeks to keep their fees low, approximately 20% of the students cannot afford to pay. Student sponsorship has allowed KCS to offer scholarships to these children who otherwise could not afford the quality education that they provide.

Since 2005, people from the Youth for Christ family around the world have been partnering with KCS to help them educate this new generation of Rwandan students. It costs approximately $600 a year for a child to receive education at Kigali Christian School.

Sponsoring a child for $50 AUD per month helps provide school supplies, lunch every day for students who might not otherwise have a decent meal, and an excellent Christian education by loving teachers. By sponsoring one of these students, you can be a part of giving them the key to their future — a good education.

It's easy. Just have a look at the form attached, and decide which payment method suits you best. Then fill in the form and return it to Youth for Christ at the address below. You will receive information on the child you sponsor and regular updates on their progress.
